Trusted Rental Housing Project

There seems to be a tendency for some private rental housing to decline tenancy to the elderly, the disabled, foreigners, and families with small children to avoid trouble. To deal with this situation, the Trusted Rental Housing Project is being promoted to create a system for providing information on rental housing that accepts foreigners and others so that the elderly, disabled, foreigners, and families with small children can find private rental housing without worry.

“Trusted Renting Net”:

- Features “Trusted Renting Rental Housing” that is registered by prefecture that accepts the elderly, disabled, foreigners, and families with small children.
- Features “Trusted Renting Housing Partner Agencies” that are registered by prefecture and that are real estate agents that introduce rental housing to foreigners and others and help them with the move-in procedures.
- Features information on residency support services provided by “Trusted Renting Support Groups” (NPOs, social welfare companies, etc) that are registered by prefecture and that provide move-in support for foreigners and others.
