Walking around Hososhima

Hososhima has flourished in commerce since the Edo Period. If you leave the wharf and walk onto the road, you will see the "Old Takanabe-ya Inn," which was built in 1921. The building has been kept in its original state, and exists today as a historical museum. Near the museum is Myokoku-ji Gardens (which has been designated as a National Site of Scenic Beauty) and Mihoko Shrine (where the legend of Emperor Jinmu lives on). We hope that you will take a moment and think about Japanese history while you take a stroll around the area.

Walking around Mimitsu

Mimitsu is a place where the townscapes of the good old days still remain. During the late Edo Period, shipping agencies and eating establishments lined the streets. Today, you can still see what the old days used to look like, as beautiful white walls made in the "kura" (storehouse) style line the cobbled streets. We hope that you will take a stroll around this historic and legendary town while visiting places such as the Hyuga City History and Folklore Museum and the Tateiwa Shrine, where it is said that Emperor Jinmu departed for a voyage to the East.
