

Japan. Thank You.

【Enclosure 2】

Special Poster, “Japan, Rising Again. Thank you for your support.”

Last year’s Great East Japan Earthquake has brought a great deal of sadness to Japan. Albeit in small steps, we are, however, steadily treading the road to recovery. After the disaster, we have received countless heartfelt words of encouragement and substantial support from people all over the world.

There is an old saying of “Toryumon” in Japan. It is a gate one must pass through to reach a success. “Toryumon” is also referred to as “a carp ascending a waterfall” and provided an old custom of flying a streamer in the form of a carp.

The carp that successfully ascended the rapid stream is said to become a dragon. In the year of Dragon, 2012, the poster below depicts our resolution to ascend our way to recovery, while thanking all of you in the world who have given us support.

(General Direction : Yoko Sakanoue; Graphic Design: Kohei Ikoma; Art: Hideki Kimura)

