

Sakai's kaisen-don (fresh seafood rice bowl)

By Foot

Dining

The Sakai Port is one of the best fishing ports in Japan. Sakai has large volume of fresh bluefin tuna and crab catch in Japan. In addition, there are also various fresh seafood caught more fresh on a daily depending on the season such as shiroika (white squid), aji (horse mackerel), snow crab, Silver Salmon and other seafood. Sakai's kaisen-don (fresh seafood rice bowl) is as good as one would expect for a port town with such fresh seafood.

Izumo Soba (Buckwheat Noodles)

By Public Transport

Dining

Izumo soba is made from unhusked buckwheat soba grains which are freshly ground into a powder. The husks are used in the process, making the color darker and the aroma stronger compared to other types of soba found in Japan. Some of the ways you can enjoy it include the "warigo" style which involves three round bowls stacked on each other where you add your toppings individually to each bowl and the "kama-age" style where noodles come served in the water that the noodles were boiled in. Both are unique ways to enjoy soba in Shimane.

Wagashi (Japanese Sweets)

By Public Transport

Dining

Matsue, along with Kanazawa and Kyoto, is one of the three locations in Japan known for the quality of their wagashi. This love wagashi dates back to the late 18th century during the reign of the 7th lord of the Matsue domain, Matsudaira Harusato, who did much to popularize tea ceremony (of which wagashi are an essential part). Many of the city's traditional wagashi makers have operated since his time.

Shirakabe Dozogun streets / Akagawara

By Public Transport

Main Attractions

The old earthen white-walled storehouses and merchant houses that were constructed in the Edo and Meiji Periods are strongly reminiscent of a bygone age. Many of the storehouses and its structure have red-tiled roofs and white plastered walls accented by black burnt cedar wood beams- one of the most striking features of Kurayoshi City. In Akagawara, there are 14 structures with perfectly preserved exteriors, whereas the inside has often been renovated and fitted out as gift stores, doll workshops, bamboo ware galleries, sake stores, local speciality shops, etc.

Matsue Castle

By Public Transport

Main Attractions

Matsue Castle is one of only 12 remaining original castles in Japan and is identical today to its time of construction. For this and other reasons, it is a designated National Treasure. The contrast between the black panels and white walls makes for a silent, yet strong structure that houses what some say is the only authentic castle keep in Japan. Visitors can climb the keep and get a great view of the entire city. The sightseeing boat that circles the moat surrounding the castle is also a popular attraction.
