

Katsuo no Tataki (Seared Bonito)

By Public Transport

Dining

Fresh rod-caught bonito divided into four parts is seared and cooked until the inside is heated. It is then soaked in cold water, cut and topped with your choice of soy sauce, "yuzu" vinegar or other sauce and sprinkled with a generous amount of garlic, green onions and other condiments. Recently, "shiotataki" (grilled bonito with salt) has also become popular.
