

The Sasebo Burger

By Foot

Dining

This gourmet dish which represents Sasebo is said to have originated in about 1950 when the US Navy, which was stationed in Sasebo, shared the recipe with the local people. The burger was arranged Sasebo-style so that Japanese people would like it. The dish is made after an order is placed. Therefore, you can enjoy each restaurant's own unique burger.

Lemon Steak

By Foot

Dining

After considering ways to come up with a steak that satisfies Japanese people, this Sasebo steak was invented. The soy sauce based sauce with a lemon flavor is poured on a hot grilled thin-sliced beef and its aroma arouses the appetite. The steak has a refreshing taste and is twice as delicious if you mix the rice with the remaining sauce.

Sailor's Beef Stew

By Foot

Dining

This beef stew is said to have been introduced to Japan by Heihachiro Togo, who served as commander-in-chief of Sasebo Naval District when the Imperial Japanese Navy was in power. Togo encountered the stew when he was studying in Britain. The stew was developed after different restaurants came up with their own recipe based on the recipe that was in "KaigunKappojutsuSankosho," a cook book for the Imperial Japanese Navy.
