

If you are new to the sport, very young, or just a bit nervous, then this is the piste for you. The Family Slope's gentle hill is safely removed from steeper, faster trails, so beginners can enjoy the descent without worrying about speedier skiers cutting ahead. Just long enough to feel accomplished without getting overwhelmed, this is an excellent option to introduce children to the joys of winter sports.

The Tenguyama Family pair chairlift is also beginner-friendly, as riders can hold their skis or snowboard on the way up, avoiding the tricky process of dismounting from the lift while wearing all your gear.
