

Ago Bay View Point

Visitors can view Ago Bay's many islands and indented coastline from here. In April, the scene is framed by wild azaleas, making it a great spot for nature photographers. Japanese andromeda (Pieris japonica) bloom here in spring. Other plants include the yeddo hawthorn (Rhaphiolepis indica var. umbellata), which boasts plum blossom-like white flowers in May and black fruits in winter.