

Antlers in Architecture

This bridge connects the island of Geruma to the adjacent island of Fukaji, the site of Kerama Airport. The decorative antler motifs at either end of the bridge are a visual nod to the local population of Kerama deer. If you're lucky, you may spot a deer, or catch sight of sea turtles swimming in the waters under the bridge as you make your way across.