

Sengetsusen Waterfall

Sengetsusen Waterfall feeds into Kinkyōchi Pond from the hills above. This waterfall was part of Yoshimasa's original design, but the flow of the water is believed to have shifted slightly over time due to a landslide.