

Abura Wall

This is the earthen core of a wall that was once covered with white plaster. Made from a mix of sand, clay, and small stones, these walls are almost as solid as concrete.