

Architectural styles of Hakodate

The older architecture of Hakodate is characterized by both Japanese and Western styles, and particularly by buildings that are a fusion of the two. The first floors were often shops done in Japanese architectural style. The second floors were living spaces and done in Western style.