

The Crown Prince's visit

In 1911, his Imperial Highness the Crown Prince (later Emperor Taisho) embarked on a month-long tour of Hokkaido. He stayed at the Old Public Hall for two nights while visiting various facilities in Hakodate. Additions and modifications were made to the Old Public Hall in order to turn it into suitable accommodation for the Prince.