

The Kyujutsusho

The Kyujutsusho was built specifically for training in Japanese archery. Similar to the Sojutsusho in other respects, the west wall of the Kyujutsusho opens onto the archery range. Students would stand inside the main room and shoot at targets placed outside.