

Sukayu Campsite

Sukayu Campsite, located at the foot of Mt. Hakkoda, is surrounded by the wild landscape of the national park. Open from mid-June until late October, this is a perfect base for exploring the campsite's environs on a nature hike. Nearby hot springs complete the amenities extended by nature in these mountains.

The Camp Management building functions as a reception area where campers can check in and pick up rental equipment or use the washrooms and washing machines. The information center offers details about spots of local interest nearby the campground such as Jigoku-numa Pond, the Tohoku University Botanical Gardens, and the trailhead to the Kenashitai Marshlands and Mt. Odake.

Sukayu Campsite offers basic tent sites as well as barrier-free serviced campsites with electrical hookups. Large, roofed food preparation areas and outdoor cookstoves are available. Please note that open fires are prohibited outside of these designated areas.
