

Shiretoko Rausu Michi no Eki

Visit the Shiretoko Rausu Michi no Eki to dine, purchase local produce and souvenirs, make tour reservations, and gather sightseeing information. The first floor has a range of local produce and handicrafts for sale, a small dining space selling drinks and snacks, and a tourist information counter. The second floor has a dining space that offers a variety of local foods.

Produce for sale includes fresh and packaged fish and packs of Rausu kombu—a rare variety of kelp that grows off the Rausu coast. A selection of locally designed products and souvenirs such as t-shirts, eco-bags, and pin badges are also available. The dining space serves fare centered around fresh seafood.

Tourist information counter

Staff at the information counter can advise about sightseeing in the Rausu area. They can help visitors make reservations for boat tours and cultural experiences, as well as offer up-to-date details on weather conditions and animal sightings.
