

Lawn Park

Lawn Park is a popular site for family picnics. It is a short walk down the hill from Yokoyama Tenkū Café Terrace, and is also accessible by car, with a small, attached parking lot.

The park is a grassy square surrounded by forest. Nearby trees include cherries that bloom in early spring and deciduous trees with red and gold foliage in autumn. In summer, the trees are home to stag beetles, and the park begins to fill with wandering glider dragonflies who arrive during the warm months to lay their eggs.

Lawn Park also has a two-story pavilion with views of the hills above, where visitors can relax amid the foliage.
